

FUSION IN KANSAS.

The Republicans and Democrats of Kansas are throwing off their disguises and combining for political purposes. Fusion tickets containing the names of Democrats and Republicans are being put in the field. The members of the respective parties are selected in proportion to the strength of the party in each county. All the old issues on which the parties were divided are lost sight of in the combined effort to defeat the Populists. The Easterner who went to Kansas with a rifle in one hand and a bible in the other in early days to rescue the state from slavery, and the border ruffian who had fire brands worked on his coat tail and death to "Yanks" on his brow, now make common cause against the wicked People's party.

The Kansas fusion system will doubtless be adopted by Republicans and Democrats in many states in the near future. Congress leads the way and encourages the fusion of old political enemies against the silver men. Sherman of Ohio controls the finance committee of the senate, Lodge, the author of the force bill, and Gorman, one of the most determined opponents of the measure, have buried the hatchet and work together harmoniously in the senate to repeal the Sherman act, and 116 Democrats and 111 Republicans fused in the house of representatives to defeat Bland's free coinage amendment.

Old party lines are being obliterated in and out of congress and a new party alignment is being made on the financial question, which all concede to be the paramount issue of the day. An effort will doubtless be made to restore the old party lines when the tariff question comes up to delude the public again, but it will fail, as all the people cannot be fooled all the time.

The contest for supremacy in the next congress should be well defined and only cowardice or treachery will prevent its being so. A free coinage ticket should be nominated in every congressional district, and let the single standard men meet it if they dare. All other national issues should be eliminated from the party platforms until the question whether silver shall be remonetized or the single gold standard adopted shall be settled by a free ballot and fair count at the polls.

PLAIN TALK.

Whatever else may be said against the Populists they cannot be justly accused of double dealing in politics. Their principles are expressed in such plain language that none can misunderstand them. Their platforms are not made to catch gulls and are not susceptible of two interpretations, one to suit the gold men and the other to suit the silver men. In Iowa they declare that the one overshadowing, all-absorbing issue before the American people is whether debtors of the United States shall be allowed to pay their debts in the money of the constitution or whether their homes shall be confiscated for the benefit of pirates. They further assert that there are only two parties, the People's party, which advocates free coinage and upholds the money of the constitution, and the Gold party, which is endeavoring to completely demonetize silver.

These declarations are as plain and truthful as they are emphatic. It cannot be denied that a determined effort is being made to adopt the single gold standard, though the constitution recognizes gold and silver as the money of the United States, to compel debtors to cancel their obligations in the dearest and scarcest money. Neither can it be disputed that the financial question is the overshadowing issue of the day, and the proceedings of congress prove conclusively that there are only two parties, the Silver men and the Goldites.

WHAT NEXT?

A few days ago a stockholder of gold-bug proclivities was at the editorial helm of the Gazette Publishing Company and advised the people to stop the silver agitation and go to farming. Yesterday a stockholder who seems favorably disposed toward mining was on deck and advised the people to develop the mineral resources of Nevada and make something besides a cow pasture and sheep range of the state. To-day a third stockholder may advise the people to quit all other pursuits and devote their time to making the Truckee river navigable, and yet the Gazette Publishing Company denies that it is as inconsistent as the moon.

SIR WILLIAM VERNON HARCOURT, chancellor of the exchequer, says the failure of the Brussels conference to reassemble was wholly due to the United States, England being always ready for a fair and careful consideration of any proposals made by other states. The English government adheres to the declaration that any interference with the single standard would meet with grave objections, but yet is willing to give the subject fair and careful consideration.

About 103,000,000 ounces of silver have been purchased by the government under the act of July, 1890, and only 36,087,185 silver dollars have been coined since that act went into effect. Had all the silver been coined there would have been no bank suspensions, business failures or currency famine in the east.

SENATE PROCEEDING.

Senator Wolcott Offers a Resolution.

A STRUGGLE FOR HOMES.

Good Suggestions Made for Stamping Out Cholera.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Wolcott Presents a Petition and Offers a Resolution.

WASHINGTON, September 7.—In the senate Wolcott of Colorado presented a petition which he said was signed by every business man in Durango, Colorado, praying for the repeal of the McKinley bill. He said the petition was on a blank form sent out by banks for the repeal of the Sherman act, but the petitioners had erased the "purchasing clause of the Sherman act" and inserted "McKinley bill." This statement elicited laughter among Republican senators.

Wolcott also submitted a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate what sums had been paid as bounties on maple sugar under the law of October 4, 1890, since the passage of the act, and showing the states in which the payment was made. Gallinger (Rep.) suggested that the resolution be modified to include all sugars.

Wolcott replied in an ardent tone that he was able to prepare his own resolutions. [Laughter.] The resolution was agreed to. White (Dem. of California) submitted a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate to what extent the appropriation heretofore made for the enforcement of the Chinese exclusion act had been expended and what portion of the funds are now available, and whether, in his opinion, further appropriations were necessary to carry out the provisions of the bill, and what amount would be required for the current fiscal year for that act. Agreed to.

Shoup, senator of Idaho, gave notice that he would address the senate on the repeal bill on Wednesday.

Voorhees moved that the repeal bill be taken up. Agreed to after Morgan, Democrat of Alabama, had said he intended to call up his resolution creating a joint select committee on finance, but found it on the calendar and could not get it up without a vote of the senate, which he did not wish to take for the purpose of antagonizing the motion of the chairman of the finance committee. He said Voorhees and himself had a conference about the matter and agreed that he should not press his motion to-day.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

The Medical Congress' Plan to Stamp Out Cholera.

WASHINGTON, September 6.—At the session of the Pan-American Medical Congress this morning a resolution was adopted requesting the Imperial Secretary of Great Britain for India to use every means in his power to suppress cholera at its fountain head in that country, without fear of the Mohammedans. It is believed by the congress that this would be the most effective means of stamping out the dread scourge.

It was further resolved that the executive committee of the congress should remain in continuous session to look after matters pertaining to international quarantine.

The paper of the day was read by Dr. Rafael Lavista of Mexico. His topic was "Acute Gangrene."

The afternoon session was largely devoted to a paper by Dr. Bayard Holmes of Chicago on medical education.

Dr. Pepper of Pennsylvania, president of the congress, delivered an address in the evening.

This afternoon President Cleveland gave a reception to the delegates and ladies accompanying them in the East room of the White House.

A Struggle for Homes.

CALDWELL, Kas., September 6.—Prairie fires in the Cherokee Strip can be seen burning in many places to-night. They were set to-day by United States troops who are charged with keeping the strip clear of intruding settlers. Many of these succeeded in hiding in the bushes and in hollows in the prairie, and it is for the purpose of dislodging them the fires were started. The result of these fires was the capture by the troops of a number of people, whose names, places of residence etc., were taken. When these persons apply for certificates of registry they will find their names on the black list and they cannot file on the claims.

A Female Aggressor Indicted.

NEW YORK, September 6.—The grand jury this morning filed a true bill against Emma Goldman, the anarchist, whom it charged with unlawful assemblage and inciting a riot. She will be brought here from Philadelphia as soon as necessary formalities are concluded.

A Bitter Concern.

OAKLAND, September, 6.—The old Life Annuity Association, which has for a long time been doing business as the Home Benefit Endowment Company, has been crowded to the wall at last by Insurance Commissioner Wilson, who to-day annulled its license. To meet $15,000 which fell due to-day on out-standing policies the concern had but $5,000 of assets, and the outlook for paying the $175,000 which will fall due within the next thirty years did not appear bright enough to satisfy the commissioner.

Capital Compliments.

"You are an ass by birth, breeding and education," remarked an irate Carson man to another yesterday.

"And you are an ass without birth, breeding or education," was the quiet reply.

The Gazette Publishing Company, as it is pleased to style itself, may rest assured that the JOURNAL has not the slightest disposition to "stop everything but mining in Nevada." It believes in encouraging every industry in the state, and if the Gazette Publishing Company would extend the scope of its vision beyond the very narrow limits which now bound it and take a comprehensive view of the situation, it would immediately discover that the development of the mines would give an impetus to all other industries in the state.

CHINAMEN who are liable to arrest and deportation under the Geary act have an opportunity to leave the country and get a bounty for doing so. The legislature of British Guiana offers a bounty of $25 per head for 5,000 Chinese from the United States to work under contract on sugar plantations and on gold mines.

Washouts in Arizona.

The last place on earth from which one would expect to hear of railroad washouts, especially at this season of the year, is Arizona. That region has a reputation for aridity that is unequalled on the continent. It is generally considered a land of perpetual drought. It scarcely ever rains there at any season, and in the summer time rain is regarded as something unnatural.

But it has been raining like fury during the last few days in Arizona. The downpour has extended to New Mexico, and there have even been heavy showers on the Mohave desert in California. In Arizona the freshets have been so violent that numerous washouts have occurred along the line of the Southern Pacific. Between Gila Bend and Lordsburg, N. M., track, trestles, embankments and bridge approaches have been carried away.

Three engines have been ditched and temporarily disabled. "In consequence of these mishaps trains are delayed and traffic generally interrupted. Yesterday General Superintendent Fillmore was principally occupied in reading telegrams informing him of fresh damages and authorizing Arizona for being such an infernally contrary country.

As usually happens in arid lands, the recent rains in the desert region between Yuma and Denning have partaken of the nature of a curse. The most arid and desolate of the desert have been turned into torrents, swelling every dry ravine into the proportions of rushing streams.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Getting Tun Out of Politics.

The truth is, people must either fight or laugh, and we prefer to laugh. Once in awhile persons get into a hot debate and break the furniture, but as a general thing they take matters good humoredly, and if a reporter is really witty we smile as broadly as circumstances permit. It is very interesting, therefore, to read the comments of our contemporaries. Here is The Tribune, for instance, with a choice variety of four line squibs every morning full of ridicule of the other fellow. It has a specialist who extracts all the wasp stings that can be found and furnishes a daily dish dished in pepper sauce. Some of them make delicious reading, not because they are true, but because they are bright.

Then comes The Sun, sly old orb, with a wink in its left eye and a simulated expression of unappeasable indignation, and pokes the enemy under the fifth rib in such a way that the ribs of no further use. The Evening Post is always on horseback, and seldom a day passes that it doesn't plant its iron hoof on some one, and The Commercial Advertiser thinks that day lost "whose low descending sun" does not look back on some Democrat whom it has jabbed.

All this is agreeable, instructive and interesting to everybody, except the political victims. The people read and grin and enjoy a perfect picnic whenever there is a paragraph on the carpet.—New York Telegram.

His Carriage Driven by Naphtha.

C. L. Simonds of Lynn has made a steam carriage for his own use that will make 10 miles an hour. The carriage weighs only 400 pounds and can carry two persons at a time. It has the appearance of an ordinary carriage in front, except there are no provisions made for a horse. The wheels are of cycle make and are four in number. The hind wheels are 48 inches, and the front wheels are 36 inches, with rubber tires. The boiler and engine are just in the rear of the seat and give the carriage the appearance of a fire engine. The steam generates in what is called a porcupine boiler, which weighs 100 pounds. The steam is made by naphtha flames from three jets. The naphtha is kept in a 1-linder, enough to last for seven hours, and there is a water tank that will hold 10 gallons. The steering part consists of a crank wheel on the footboard, so that the engineer can steer and attend to the engine at the same time.—Boston Letter.

Joy Killed in a Jolly Row.

Particulars have been received of a fatal family row at Japonica school-house, 14 miles from Kerville, in western Texas. Alexander Jolly became involved in a row with Shelby Joy, his brother-in-law, in which Joy knocked down a younger brother of Jolly. Jolly then sprang at Joy with a knife, severing one of the arteries in the neck, from which he died in a few minutes. After hiding out in the brush for sometime Jolly surrendered to the sheriff and was committed to the Kerville jail. Both participants were only 23 years of age.—Cor. Chicago Herald.
